When you wish you could have someone with whom you can share your pain, doubts and questions, I am here to listen with completely non-biased and non-judgmental support. God blessed me with a compassionate heart enabling me to genuinely listen, to care and to love. I truly believe every soul will recover when given genuine care, love and understanding. With years of mental health experience as an ABA therapist and child, youth and family therapist at NAVOS, plus HR experience, I am building a solid reputation for providing standout quality child, youth, adult and family counseling.

I use play therapy to create a safe environment for children; art therapy for right brain truth seeking; and EFT so couples understand attachment needs are universal. With a different level of understanding for minorities as I am Asian, minorities and mixed-culture couples are other specialties of mine.

Teamed with my supervisors, we are supported by recognized leaders from the psychotherapy industry. I share my theory, method and working process. I share my insights and ask non-biased, non-judgmental questions to help you find your answers in life; counseling in both
