Conscious Fashion Campaign

The Conscious Fashion Campaign spotlights women entrepreneurs in the fashion industry driving social and environmental impact by showcasing their work in billboard and digital campaigns. With women receiving only 25% of news features globally [Global Media Monitoring Project 2020 - 2021 Final Report], the campaign aims to increase media representation of women social entrepreneurs transforming fashion to scale their impact in support of the Sustainable Development Goals. For the Conscious Fashion Campaign: New York 2021 ten organizations are chosen by the Advisory Committee to be showcased in a collective billboard campaign during New York Fashion Week February 2022.

Sustainable Fashion Innovation Society

Since 2019, SFIS is the first non-profit organization in Italy, exclusively dedicated to the eco-sustainable transition of the fashion and design industry. The Sustainable Fashion Innovation Society is the largest European community of sustainable brands, with more than 2,000 subscribed brands (free membership). SFIS monthly offers its brands a series of exclusive free services thanks to our national and international Partners: Ernst Young, ENEL X, National Institute for Microcredit, Monitor for Circular Fashion by Bocconi University, CNA-National Chamber of Artisans FederModa, National Railway Company (Ferrovie dello Stato), RAI-National TV, CEO for Life, etc. SFIS is also a phigital platform - physical and digital - which acts as a marketplace, not an e-commerce, where supply and demand between sustainable brands and manufacturers of the most innovative fibers virtually meet. SFIS members can access the largest database of sustainable manufacturing and fashion-tech made in Italy. Furthermore, for each registered brand, SFIS donates a fee for the conservation of 25 trees in the Amazon rainforest, thanks to our partner OneTribe B-Corp. SFIS supports and promotes fashion-technology startups and non-profit organizations that pursue female social projects of women empowerment through ethical fashion, such as Made in Prison - winner of the call for tenders (held for our 2.000 sustainable subscribed brands) by our partner Ferrovie. SFIS organizes campaigns to make consumers aware of fashion's emissions towards the planet, increasing transparency and traceability, as well as acting as advocates with regional and national institutions to reduce emissions of fashion companies, optimizing resources and using vegan alternatives to animal skins, encouraging the use of processing waste through circularity.

#NoNewClothes

#NoNewClothes is about pausing purchases of new clothes - whether that's buying nothing at all or only secondhand - for 90 days to reflect on our culture's consumption habits, the values we want to wear, the changes needed to create an inclusive, resilient fashion industry and the role we play in shaping the future of the fashion industry. The campaign runs annually each summer, kicking off June 1st and ending September 1st

Sellery

Sellery is an online retailer that offers a next generation shopping experience for ethical and sustainable fashion. We solve the consumer pain points of trust, transparency and affordability, allowing you to shop your values with ease. Without solutions to the barriers at the point of the purchase decision, innovations in sustainable and circular fashion and efforts towards more ethical sourcing and production will stall. Sellery's goal is to ensure these efforts fulfill their destiny in the closets of U.S. consumers and replace the irresponsibly made products they are purchasing today. Our mission is to clothe the U.S. in responsible fashion with a vision of a net positive global fashion industry in harmony with the planet, its people and ecosystems.

The Regenerative Fashion Collective

Exchange

The Regenerative Fashion Collective Exchange (ReFaCE) was created to holistically address the negative impact of the global fashion industry on the environment, biodiversity, and climate change, that disproportionately affects the African continent (Africa contributes less than 4% of global greenhouse gas emissions and is instead the largest contributor to carbon absorption thanks to the Congo basin). ReFaCE's mission is to provide a platform that develops a regeneratively sustainable fashion ecosystem in Africa that promotes circular economy principles such as reduce, reuse, recycle, and indigenous regenerative practices such as soil regeneration, carbon sequestration, and biodiversity conservation, to achieve climate commitments, ecosystem resilience, and to close the C3 loop for the good of the fashion industry and the health of the planet. Our objectives to fulfill our mission are to: 1. Raise awareness of the environmental impact of the global fashion industry on our region and how it contributes to climate change. 2. Develop and support the establishment of a local women and youth-led regenerative textile industry, with an emphasis on training in regenerative agricultural practices, fair working conditions and supply chain transparency for local and global markets. 3. Create a platform for fashion industry stakeholders in Africa to share knowledge and collaborate on cutting-edge regenerative solutions, and to foster a community of women and youth Regenerative Fashion Practitioners. 4. Ensure job and food security by developing and supporting the production and sourcing of regenerative fibre crops while combating poverty, ensuring human health, and biodiversity conservation. 5. Establish an African Certification Standard for regenerative products to not only restore the agency of indigenous people over their land and its produce, but to also reconstitute their cultural heritage.

Joanna's version:

Meet Our Furry Family Members

Camry (3 years old as of 2024): Camry is a friendly and energetic Golden Retriever and Labrador mix. She loves to play fetch and cuddle with her favorite humans. Camry can be easily scared at times and is very friendly with people, but she may not always get along with other animals. She's still learning to be gentle with her paws and teeth during play. Camry is currently in training to become a well-behaved companion.

Gio (2 years old as of 2024): Gio is a gentle giant! Despite her size, she's a sweet and affectionate girl. As a Mastiff, Gio has natural guarding instincts, but she's very gentle and gets along well with people. She's quite vocal at times and may bark to alert us of any perceived threats. Gio is very soft and gentle with her paws and teeth. She is also actively undergoing training to ensure she grows into a well-mannered dog.

Important Notice Regarding Our Dogs

We want all our guests to feel safe and comfortable in our apartment. Please be aware that Camry and Gio live here with us. They are friendly, but like any animals, they may react unpredictably if startled or frightened. Both dogs are up-to-date on their rabies vaccinations.

If you are uncomfortable around dogs for any reason, please let us know immediately so we can make appropriate arrangements to ensure your safety and comfort during your visit. We understand that not everyone is at ease with dogs.

For everyone's safety, please follow these guidelines:

1. Be careful not to catch Gio's paws in the door, as this often scares her.
2. Do not take things out of the dogs' mouths, as they may interpret this as a threat.
3. If the dogs start to growl, stop what you are doing and let us know immediately.
4. Please do not approach or reach into the dogs' crates, as this is their safe space.
5. If the dogs start fighting, do not attempt to intervene. Let us handle the situation.
6. In the unlikely event that a dog attacks you, remain calm and still. Cross your arms over your chest and avoid eye contact until we can intervene.

Additional dog safety tips:

- Do not disturb the dogs while they are eating, sleeping, or chewing on a toy.
- Always let the dogs sniff you before petting them, and avoid petting them on the head.
- Do not run or make sudden movements around the dogs, as this may trigger their chase instinct.
- If a dog seems anxious or uncomfortable, give them space and do not force interaction.
- Do not allow children to interact with the dogs without close adult supervision.
- Do not encourage or engage in rough play or wrestling with the dogs.
- Be mindful of your body language and tone of voice around the dogs, as they may interpret certain postures or loud noises as threatening.
- If you have any open wounds, cuts, or bandages, keep them covered and avoid contact with the dogs to prevent accidental injury or infection.

Keep in mind that dogs are animals and may behave instinctively if scared or anxious. Accidents can happen even with the friendliest dogs. For everyone's well-being, please do not approach or interact with the dogs without checking with us first.

Your safety is our top priority. If you have any concerns whatsoever, please let us know right away so we can address them. Thank you for your understanding and cooperation!
