

Our Structure

As the "voice of the many" with 1,100 members across 90 countries, the decision-making process of the Loss & Damage Youth Coalition seeks to reflect the global diversity of youth. The LDYC is a membership-driven organisation, working to empower youth as it delivers its mission for climate justice.

Working Groups (WGs)

The LDYC is made up of five working groups, each focusing on one of the following topics:

- Advocacy
- Communications
- Research
- Storytelling
- Training

Working Groups are each led by one or two coordinators, and each function similarly though with some minor variations. WGs generally meet once every two weeks during a membership call hosted by a coordinator. Meetings assess past project progress, outline the work for the week(s) ahead, and allocated tasks to members.
